Six Cases Held Peace Officers Over Weekend

Peace officers were kept on the jump over the week end rushing from one case to another.

A young man from Kansas was on his way to El Paso to see a brother who was scheduled to be shipped overseas. A pair of young hoodlums picked him up south of Amarillo as he was attempting to thumb a ride. The three stopped at Umbarger for coffee and a little way beyond the car drove to a country road where the hiker was robbed of $30. He appeared to be all right and was allowed to go on. There has been no trace of the two boys.

Seven Amarillo boys were arrested as a result of stealing fishing tackle from a parked car north of Canyon. The owner of the tackle gave chase and the boys threw away the tackle east of Canyon. When caught and turned over to officers, the man went back to pick up his fishing tackle, but some one else had found it first. Five of the boys confessed on the two who had stolen the tackle and they were held in jail until their parents showed up and paid off the damages.

Two motorcycle riders were picked up as they sped down the street, riding side by side and holding hands from their machines.

Two men with their wives and children were picked up intoxicated. The women had not been drinking and after consultation between officers they were allowed to take the men on to Amarillo to sober up.

A motorcycle followed by a car was hit Sunday evening when a gust of rain and high wind hit the drivers. The driver of the car could not see the machine, which was hit. The rider was brought to the hospital.

Two boys were in jail after they were held for having taken blankets from the Field House and had stripped a car of a number of accessories. They were released Monday to their father, who promised to watch them closer.

It was a busy time for law enforcement officers, with the largest number of cases seen locally in several months.

Light Showers and Cold Wave Hit Plains for Weekend

Randall county received .30 of an inch of moisture over the week end, with freezing temperatures practically every night.

Showers started Saturday morning and continued until Monday. At no time was the amount of moisture heavy. The sun failed to shine during Saturday and Sunday.

The mercury sagged to the freezing point, with a little snow in the air Sunday night and Monday morning, but not sufficient to increase the total moisture.

Cecil Massey To Preside at State Youth Council

Cecil Massey, director of the Canyon Community Recreation Council, was recently appointed chairman for the Cross Plains Recreation Clinic to be held in Borger May 17.

The appointment came at a meeting held February 27. Presiding at the meeting was Earl Meadows, State Youth Representative.

The clinic will be held for all recreation workers in this section and will be an all day affair. The day will be spent in such activities as games, square dancing, handicrafts and various other forms of recreation.

Five such clinics will be held throughout the state during the month of May. Other towns to play host to State Youth Council will be Victoria, Tyler, Lubbock and Brownwood. The Borger Council rounds out the fifth for the state.

The plans, which are to be worked out in Austin, will be to invite all school 4-H and FFA leaders as well as county and home demonstration agents. These respective clubs and leaders will be extended an invitation to attend the meeting nearest the towns in which they are located.

The Canyon meeting in which Massey was appointed chairman of this area's activities was also attended by three out of town guests. They were: R. C. Oliver, Director of Recreation at Borger; Harold Lanthrup, National Representative of the Midwest States, who maintains an office in Denver, Colo., and Earl Meadows of the State Youth Council at Austin.

This money is to be used for the purchase of books on the reading list of home demonstration clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dowd are leaving Thursday to visit their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Helmich, in Fort Worth. They will be accompanied by Mrs. G. S. Ballard and Mrs. Anna Evans, who will visit in Decatur.

City Officials To Give Tickets For Violations

City officials are planning to crack down on some local violations unless the people cooperate. This assertion was made by City Secretary Dudley Bayne Tuesday morning.

He said the violations which are most common are double parking, cutting across the street from the left side in order to park and parking in alleys while attending a show or other similar function.

Bayne said that it is not the desire of officials to issue tickets and that cooperation on the part of the general public will do more good.

Double parking causes traffic congestion and when started it is almost impossible to get down the street.

On the second count, it was pointed out that there was a danger of an accident if people persisted in whipping to the left side of the street to park. This practice is worse about the post office than in other parts of town.

The third offense is that of parking in alleys while attending a show or other functions. Alleys and fire lanes should be kept clear at all times because of the possibility of a fire.

Meeting of Delta Kappa Gamma Held

On Saturday evening, March 1, Delta Kappa Gamma held their monthly meeting in the Blue Room of the College Cafeteria. This was guest night and a large crowd was in attendance. Dinner was served to 92 people.

After the dinner, an Oriental program was given. The subject was "Better Acquaintances with Oriental People." Miss Darthula Walker was in charge of the program, assisted by Miss Wallis of Amarillo who discussed China; Mrs. Ethleen Murrel Busch of Amarillo discussed Korea, and Miss Sarah Thompson of Canyon talked on Japan.

Miss Wallis introduced a young Chinese who gave a most interesting report of life in China. He also gave a violin solo and sang the first song he learned in English, "God Bless America."

The entire organization enjoyed very much his contribution to the program as they did the parts contributed by other members of the program. Miss Thompson had many articles which she had collected from some of her students who had some things brought them from Japan.

For the program an Oriental setting had been arranged. As a center of interest at the head table was a model of a Japanese Temple with garden and typical Japanese gateway.

Other table decorations consisted of vases of cherry blossoms, Korean candlesticks, miniature colorful paper ricksha parasols and Japanese fans. On the walls were colorful Chinese figures in typical Chinese costumes, and Japanese and Chinese pictures including the famous Fujiyama.

Many articles typical of the three countries were displayed on tables at the back of the room. Incense permeated the atmosphere.

West Texas State Chamber of Commerce president Kelly was present to address the group. The meeting had a triple purpose. One task was to elect a vice-president; another was to outline the actions of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce last year, and the third purpose was to give plans for a proposed project for this year.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. E. N. Zachry were: Mr. and Mrs. Dellas Zachry, Barbara and Glenda Ann of Roy, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cayton, Cecil Eugene and Keith of Flagler, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Zachry, Richard and Johnny Lynn of Happy, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Zachry, Bobby and Tommy of Canyon.

Building Climbs In Second Month; $45,540 for February

Building permits for the month of February, issued at the City Hall, amounted to $45,540. During the 29 day Leap Year February, four permits were issued for residences, one for a duplex, one for a business, two business issued permits for additions and two garage permits.

In all, 10 permits were issued with the final one being written on the 29th.

Total of the permits was more than four times the amount for January. During the first month of the year permits totaled only $10,100. Bad weather was given as the probable cause for the low rate of building in January. At any rate, when the weather got better in February, building permits climbed back up to a normal figure again.

Parents Invited To Visit Schools

This is the week for Texas parents, students and teachers to draw a little closer together. It's Texas Public School Week and many letters are in the mail from many school principals and superintendents all over the state.

From the West Texas Elementary School, where E. R. Reeves is principal, a letter is going to students' parents.

The letter reads: "This year, as in the past for most of you, you have entrusted to our care and supervision the most precious possession you have, your child. In order for us to render the most possible educational good for your child, your help is essential. We need your suggestions, and we need to know what you know about this child. Too, you need to know what our program is, what we are trying to accomplishment."

The letter goes on to explain how important it is for the teachers and parents to cooperate in order to give the child a fuller education. The final paragraph of the letter is an invitation to parents to visit several classes. The last sentence in the body of the letter is very important; it says, "We need your help and your child needs your interest."

Every week of the year is important but to parents of school age children this week is particularly important. This is Texas Public School Week.

Stock Show Great Success Spite of Prevailing Bad Weather

In spite of bad weather and the fact that the organization had to resort to the city barn once more for a show place, the Randall County Junior Livestock Association had its annual show Saturday. Raymond Bennett had the grand champion steer. Bennett was recuperating from the measles and could not show it. Pinch hitting for Raymond was his brother, Buddy Bill Bennett, who had the grand champion steer in 1950.

The grand champion was entered in the Amarillo Fat Stock Show. Bennett, who had the grand champion steer, is a member of the 4-H Club. Norman Tucek, owner of the reserve champion, is an FFA member.

The show was judged by Dr. M. R. Calliham, head of the Agriculture Department at West Texas State College. The grand champion was bred by W. S. Bennett, Raymond's father. The reserve champion was bred by Oren Brothers of Erick, Oklahoma.

Norman Tucek walked away with more than reserve honors. In the swine show his pigs won both grand champion and reserve ribbons.

An FFA boy, 16 year old Charles Morris, placed both first and second in the lamb show. This was the first year lambs had been entered in the Randall County Junior Livestock Show.

This year's show was the biggest in the five year history of the association with a total of 100 entries being registered. Although it was the association's biggest show, for awhile it looked as if the sale afterwards was going to be called off or postponed for lack of an indoor place to have it. The garage department of the Lindsey Motor Company was cleared out and the sale took place there.

The auction was conducted by Richmond Hales and Bill Wilson who donated their time in selling the animals. They sold the grand champion calf to Myers Implement Company for 90 cents per pound. The calf brought its owner a total of $787.50. The reserve champion of Tucek's was sold to the Southwestern Public Service Company for 60 cents per pound and brought $527.

The top pig brought its owner 52½ cents per pound or $62.50 in all. The Farmers Commission Co. of Fort Worth bought it and then gave it back to the association for re-sale.

The first place lamb brought 51 cents per pound to give its owner a total of $120.57.

Next year the organization plans to have its own building in which to hold the show and the sale. During the past five years the shows have been held in the city barn but all the time the association has been growing and plans have been underway for the construction of their own building.

Buffs Lost in Rough Game to Tech Monday

The Buffalo basketball team was defeated Monday night at Lubbock in a rough game during which time members of both squads were sent to the showers by personal fouls.

The score of 89 to 85 tells only part of the story. ,

The Buffs took an early lead which was maintained during the first period. The lead changed five times during the second period, with Tech leading 46-40 at the half.

The third period was the downfall of the Buffs, with Tech hitting the basket from every angle, and running up a lead of 76-60.

During the final period the Buffs got hot again and held the Tech men while pushing up their own score. But time ran out before the Buffs could overcome the lead.

Two games remain for the Buffs, with the local boys being so unlucky to lose both tosses. The team will play Midwestern University at Wichita Falls Wednesday night and New Mexico A&M College at Las Cruces Friday night. The team will have a hard schedule of travel in order to make both appointments.

The results of both games will determine whether or not the Buffs will play in Kansas City. Midwestern is a tough assignment, while the Aggies of New Mexico is the only team to defeat the Buffs, and this defeat was pinned on the Buffs at Las Cruces.

At the present time the Buffs

Banks Report Unusual Cash Withdrawals

Uncle Sam is getting after those who hoard money, or withdraw large sums of currency from the banks.

As a result of this policy the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas has called upon all banks to make reports on unusual cash transactions which calls for withdrawals of large sums of money. Forms are furnished all banks for these reports. While banks have no authority to stop such practices, they are required to report those as follows:

1. Transactions involving $2,500 or more of United States currency in denominations of $100 or higher;
2. Transactions involving $10,000 or more of United States currency in any denominations, and

Nations' Decline And Fall Discussed At Rotary Luncheon

Joe F. Watson, pastor of the Church of Christ, spoke Tuesday on "Why Nations Decline and Fall" at the Rotary Club luncheon. He was introduced by J. B. Roberts, chairman of the program committee.

"I am not a crepe hanger, but it is well for all of us to look around and see what is happening," stated the speaker.

An Englishman stood among the ruins of Rome and asked why this great nation had decayed. His declaration sounds a great deal like 1952. Two other great writers made a likewise survey and came up with the same results in the case of Rome.

In this greatest of all nations, we should stop and look around to see what is going on today. We have the greatest wealth; the greatest natural resources. Yet we have a great increase in crime among youths; an increase in insanity.

Sex magazines are on the increase. Today there are three barmaids to every co-ed; there are three criminals to every college student; one million illegitimate children are born annually.

There is a decline in births among the better class of citizens; there is a decline in individual initiative; extravagance is rampant. There are more cars; more bath tubs; more phones, more household conveniences than in any other nation.

While all citizens enjoy athletics, there is danger in the situation of today in the cases of bribery which have been exposed.

Failure of home life; increase in divorces; the decline of the Christian home are signs of failure.

Taxes are getting higher and higher. The speaker called attention to the fact that all Presidents had collected 248 billions in taxes; yet Truman had collected 260 billions up to date, and will collect 320 billions by the end of the year.

Rather than spend a quiet evening at home, folks want to go out for excitement; for thrills; to be made to laugh or cry.

Building of armament is another sign of decline. America is expected to pay 9-10th of the cost of defending Europe. The speaker quoted from former President Hoover when he stated that America was in danger of decline from within and not from danger of attack from without.

The decline of religion was the last sign of the fall of any nation.

"What can I as an individual do about it?" asked the speaker. He urged that citizens get back to fundamentals; to live as Christians. "If we take care of the individual, the world will be all right," was his conclusion.

Twenty visitors were introduced from Canyon, Hereford, Lubbock, Los Angeles, Calif., and Amarillo.

Two young fathers, Dr. Dudley Moore and Holmes Ambrose, were in charge of the music. Both are fathers of sons born this week.

Stork Specials

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lewis are the parents of a baby girl born February 9, weighing 6 pounds. She has been named Terri Diane. Mrs. Lewis will be remembered as Peggy Head.

Sgt. Kenneth Hillier is home on a 15 day furlough from Ft. Riley, Kansas, and is visiting with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hillier.

Buffalo Lake Becomes a Football For Silly Demands of Fishermen

Roy Childers, concessionaire, is pretty sore about the treatment he has received at the hands of T. E. Johnson, editor of the Amarillo Globe-Times. According to our reading of this afternoon newspaper, Mr. Childers has a right to feel this way. The Globe-Times seems to have been at the seat of discontent of raising prices at Buffalo Lake for the purpose of putting the money into needed improvements on the property.

Boat owners at Buffalo Lake first started to raise a howl, through the Amarillo Globe-Times, with the mouthpiece of T. E. Johnson doing the noise making. Prices were raised on boat rentals and storage for the one purpose of improving facilities which would meet the requirements of the public. Mr. Childers did not agree to make the improvements at the Lake under his original contract, but agreed to put the additional money which he collected into permanent improvements when the increase was authorized.

Fishermen from Amarillo raised a howl about the increase of boat prices and are now demanding that all restrictions be lifted on fishing in order that they may fish at will with no regulations or prices.

This is a silly attitude to take, and one which would soon sound the death knell on fishing at Buffalo Lake. The only way the government may collect the money placed in the original investment; the only way that improvements may be made at Buffalo, is through the collection of fishing rights. This fee is small for the fellow who really wishes to get out and do some fishing.

"Just how long are the people of Amarillo, through their spokesman, T. E. Johnson, going to dominate Buffalo Lake?" asked Mr. Childers on a visit to The Canyon News office. "Since Buffalo Lake is located in Randall County, and since it was bought and established by the federal government, it looks like Amarillo is seeking to take over and run the affairs of Buffalo Lake without consulting Canyon, or Tulia, or Hereford, or any of the other towns interested in the Lake," stated Mr. Childers.

"Every time Johnson takes a dig at Buffalo Lake, it will cost at least $100 in paving which I have contemplated making. Because there was a public demand that I build a 'wheel-chair fishing ramp' at Buffalo, I have completed this ramp. It will take fifty years from fishing fees from wheel chair fishermen to pay for this improvement. I borrowed $9,000 from the bank the other day to start needed permanent improvements at Buffalo Lake. I am turning the money back since Amarillo fishermen, through Mr. Johnson, seem not to want these improvements. Things will stay just as they are at the Lake, without needed permanent improvements, because I am under no obligations to make these improvements," stated Mr. Childers.

When some public institution is attacked by a newspaper, it seems that some folks go crazy with demands for more and additional knifing of those who are in charge. It is a sad commentary on the attitude of the public regarding institutions.

Maybe Mr. Childers is wrong in his position regarding the attitude of the Globe-Times, but we doubt it. Day after day he has been needled by the newspaper, without the rule of reason being applied. When there is a public leader, the public is easily incensed to doing and demanding silly and impractible things.

President Truman Is Playing a Delaying Game in Ambitions

President Truman is playing a delaying game of politics. As the weeks pass into months it becomes more and more evident that the President is a candidate for re-election, but is hoping that the Democratic party will see to it that he is drafted for the job.

His statement the other day that he liked his job is a clear cut indication that he wants to stay with this job.

In the meanwhile the attitude of the President is causing a great amount of uncertainty in Democratic ranks. While there are several very active candidates for the Republican nomination, there is no pronounced Democratic candidate, excepting Senator Kefauver, the unknown in politics.

Unless there is a decided change in the national picture, it looks more and more like Taft vs. Truman in November.

We are still wondering if the voters of America will wish to continue corruption, greed and graft in the federal government. All they have to do in order to have this kind of government is to re-elect Truman. He will then know that this is the road that America wishes to travel, even though it leads downward to destruction.

On the other hand, Taft is so frank and so honest in his personal and political life that there can be no question of what the American people want when they cast a vote for him.

Regardless of the "eye wash" slap which Truman directed at Democratic primaries, we shall soon see just what the voters of America think of the present situation in the White House.

How Long Will UN Forces Be Played as Suckers in Korea?

How long will the United Nations be fooled with the promises of the commies and continue to talk peace in Korea when all of us know perfectly well that the commies will never agree to peace.

The latest demand that Russia become a member of the inspection team to determine the comparative strength of the two forces in Korea is a dead give away of the intention of the commies. They know that no self respecting nation would agree to any such plan. Yet the UN officers continue night after night to endure the insults of the commies and to come back for more.

If UN can offer no resistance to Russia for fear of loosing its shirt, it is time that we withdraw and fight the war alone. That would be a most disastrous means to take, but perhaps a few bombs on Moscow might convince Stalin & Co. that we mean business.

So far as General Eisenhower is concerned, he seems to be having about as much difficulty in organizing Europe as we are having in Asia.

Follow one rule if you would keep your friends: never give advice voluntarily and only sparingly when asked. In offering advice, never expect it to be followed.

Words of Wisdom from an Old Minister Are Most Refreshing

It is not often that such a sage of yesteryears visits Canyon as was the case last week when Rev. Corkey came to Canyon.

He was one of eight sons of a Presbyterian preacher in Ireland who heeded the call to preach. Three daughters were missionaries. Not many families of eleven sons and daughters are engaged in religious work, following in the footsteps of their father.

One of the sage remarks made years ago by Rev. Corkey was his plea to his church to spread cheer and goodwill among the people of the community while they could appreciate and enjoy this praise. His remark was: "If you have flowers to give, bring them to me now, while I can enjoy them. I will not be able to appreciate them when they are piled on me coffin and you remark, 'Smell 'em Corkey'."

In his 84th year, accompanied by his 80 year old wife, he has visited 46 states since his retirement. They have worn out eight cars of a popular make during their travels. It is fortunate that they have not had to live and travel on their income as a retired minister.

Since retirement Mr. Corkey has filled pulpits in many denominations. "I love people and find good folks in all denominations," is his conclusion. During his travels he always finds his way to a church on Sunday morning. "I worship with any congregation at hand," he stated. "I have worshipped with Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists, Catholics and Jews alike," he stated.

The highlight of his religious experience came during World War II when a friend of his, a Catholic priest, was accused of being a Hitler sympathizer. Rev. Corkey knew that the priest was a good American. He went upon invitation of the priest to fill the pulpit in the Catholic Church. When protests were made from both Presbyterians and Catholics alike, he remarked: "I prefer to associate with good Catholics rather than poor Presbyterians."

During World War I Mr. Corkey served overseas in the YMCA. He had many thrilling experiences as a Y man and is proud of that organization.

The daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Corkey is connected with the hospital in Camp Hood, Texas, where she has worked during the past 11 years.

It is refreshing to meet and talk with any man who says that his retirement fund as a minister meets all of his needs; that he turned down the offer of his church to increase his allotment; that he worked for a commercial firm during World War II, just to help out, and has never accepted a cent of Social Security benefits.

97 per cent of Materials Going Into Atomic Bombs Imported

A lecturer the other day stated that America must build and maintain a navy capable of replacing the British navy. England is bankrupt, and is no longer able to continue as mistress of the seas.

America needs and must have 97% of the vital minerals which go into the atomic bomb, and these come from all parts of the world. That is the reason the commies are so interested in expanding their sphere of influence. If they can cut off our imports, they will strangle us in no time, stated this speaker.

While America is the greatest industrial nation in the world, yet let it be remembered that our industry depends entirely upon our imports.

This speaker went on to say that General MacArthur had the only key to the solution of containing the Reds, yet he was fired because of his demand that the war in Korea should be won rather than seeing the United Nations stall along, killing American soldiers and depleting the vital materials of America, while Russia continued growing stronger and stronger.

The trouble with America, according to this speaker, is that we have so recently become a world power, and know so little about the problems of the world.

Just What Is a Fortune, With All of the Prevailing Deducts

We note with interest that a "fortune" of $72,800 was left by a man who died suddenly, without heirs. We got to wondering about this "fortune," and how it will disappear into thin air.

First will come nice fat fees for the administrator; some more to the courts; a good slice to the state; and then the federal government will really hit the jackpot.

If and when the heirs, if any are found, start to draw on the so-called "fortune" they will find that it has dwindled to a very small amount, through taxation.

Which leads us to believe that taxation is one of the leading problems and headaches of the day. Every taxing body feels that it should increase taxes in order to keep up with the national trend. We have no idea as to where this is going to lead, but one of these days the people generally will become so sick and tired of working for the government, without their consent or without benefits, that revolt is likely to come.

We shall see in November just how seriously we are taking this epidemic of wasting public funds.

Senator Williams Exposed the Present Tax Corruption in USA

A mild mannered Senator in Congress started all of this investigation which led to so much exposure of corruption in tax cases.

Senator Williams of Delaware thought that something was wrong in the Internal Revenue Department. He set to work with bulldog determination to find out what was wrong. He has uncovered case after case without any brass band or the aid of press agents.

The evil-doers around Washington and throughout the federal government did not understand what manner of man this Senator was when he went to Washington. His determination paid off, and paved the way for the house cleaning which is in progress.

More power to this quiet little man from the small state.

One of the safest places to be, in case of sudden attack, is on a fishing trip, and we know some people who take elaborate precautions on this score.

Some local residents never realize what a fine place they live in — until they go away from home and try life in another place.

It is not a simple matter to live a simple life.

Help Keep Canyon Clean!

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of The Canyon News of March 3, 1927)

Clean Up Day has been set for March 8.

J. M. Craig had 110 pullets stolen from his farm south of Canyon.

The legislature has passed an emergency bill for $35,000 for West Texas State. Governor Dan Moody is expected to sign the bill.

Applications are being received for a postmaster to reopen the Umbarger postoffice.

W. D. Howren of Amarillo, formerly of Canyon, was employed by the Commissioners Court as County Engineer on the paving between Canyon and Amarillo.

According to Austin, the dog killed by Fritz Friemel had rabies. The head had been sent to Austin for the test.

P. E. Shotwell resigned as coach at Sul Ross to accept a position with the Breckenridge high school.

Three locations for the proposed moval of the Clarendon College to Amarillo have been rejected by the locating commission of the Methodist Church.

POSITIVE PROOF

Gladstone used to tell his friends about a neighbor's little girl who really believed in prayer. Her brother had made a trap that caught little sparrows, and she prayed that it might fail.

Suddenly her face became radiant and for three days she prayed hard, and her faith was so absolute that her mother asked one morning, "Julia, why are you so sure your prayer will be answered?"

Julia smiled. "I know that my prayer will be answered, because I went out there three days ago and kicked the trap to pieces!"

AMATEURISH

Employer (interviewing applicant for job): "Know anything about electricity?"

"Yessir."

"What's an armature?"

"A chap who boxes for nothin'!"

Noted Scientist Will Speak Here

"The Dr. Millikan" of the world of science is coming to Canyon March 18, 19 and 20.

Volumes can be written upon the notable achievements of Dr. Robert Andrews Millikan, one of which won him the Nobel Prize in 1923. He won the Nobel Prize as a physicist.

In addition to this he has won such medals as the Hughes, the Edison and the Faraday. Such honors go on to include at least 20 which represent nine governments.

He stopped counting his honorary degrees when they reached 25. He has 18 books to his credit, including his autobiography, published by Prentice-Hall in 1950.

The story of Dr. Millikan is one of a half-century search into the infinite. His work has reached such technical stages as isolation of the electron and experiments in early proof of the validity of Einstein's theory. Such research led him to study inter-stellar spaces beyond our planetary system.

Dr. Millikan was born in Illinois, March 22, 1868. His father was a congregational minister and his mother was dean of women at Olivet College in Michigan. Millikan himself spent his boyhood working on a farm. His life is two stories, his own success and that of American Science.

At the present time Dr. Millikan is devoting his time to two problems, peace and the effort to show that no gap exists between science and religion. This work is being carried on under the auspices of The Religion in Education Foundation.

Juniper Emcees New Radio Show

"This is WT" is the new radio program now being aired each Saturday at 9:15 over radio station KAMQ in Amarillo, in which Dean Walter Juniper is chief. Dr. Juniper is featured each week as he answers questions sent in by Panhandle listeners concerning West Texas State.

This is the Dean's second series of programs. He has already become famous for his KGNC feature last year, "The Jukebox of Yesteryear." On that program Dr. Juniper brought memories to the old timers when he played selections from his prize collection of old phonograph records.

While airing that program he wrote a song, "The Dip Snuff Stomp," that was heard many times in the hillbilly field of music. The "Stomp" is a take-off on the Billy Briggs' composure of "The Chew Tobacco Rag," and was written as a joke.

On the new program Dr. Juniper plans to have, as guests from time to time, members of the faculty and people from the Panhandle area.

James F. Byrnes, Governor of South Carolina, former Secretary of State: "The time has come when political labels should mean little to us but political principles should mean much to us."

CARELESS

The self-reliant young lady maneuvered her shiny new sedan between two parked trucks, timed the changing light to a nicety, jumped ahead of the slow-starting line of cars, and was the first to reach the outskirts of the town.

"That's what I call driving!" the cop directing traffic called over to a friend.

But two minutes later, the same young lady reached her street, made a sharp turn and ripped one of her garage doors completely off its hinges.

QUALIFIED

Calling up a certain important woman, the Lady gushed, "I hear your husband is to be appointed to a Cabinet post. If that is true, do come to dinner at my place next Tuesday. If it isn't, then do come in for coffee afterwards."

Life at Forty Begins Period of More Complications

From a literary point of view life may begin at forty, but from a health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are health disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there have been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

Good advice for persons over forty is that they have regular physical examinations and obtain prompt medical attention for any and all illnesses.

Bill Brune of Littlefield visited Mr. and Mrs. Silas Hart Saturday.

Calvary Baptists To Hold Revival

The Calvary Baptist Chapel of Canyon will begin a series of revival services Monday night. Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will do the preaching and music will be in charge of Dennis Lyle, First Baptist Educational Director.

Services will be held daily at 10 o'clock in the morning and 7:45 o'clock in the evening. Pre-service prayer meetings will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Calvary Baptist Chapel is a mission of the First Baptist Church. Plans were started in 1940 and construction of the building was begun in October of the same year.

The first unit was completed at a cost of more than $7,000, including some equipment. Rev. Tom Watson of Portales, N. M., was called as the chapel's first pastor.

The chapel now has 124 members enrolled in Sunday School and 84 members enrolled in Training Union. Several members of the First Baptist Church are now giving leadership to the chapel, and making plans to the end that the chapel will soon become an organized church.

World's DP's Seeking Haven In Mass Moves

WASHINGTON, D.C.—There are in the world today between 30 and 60 million refugees, population experts estimate.

Many are searching for new homes. In a world of uprooted peoples, the past three decades constitute an age of great migrations.

The homeless and the hunted have moved — and are moving — across continents and seas. They include victims of war, political persecution, natural catastrophes, and overcrowded lands.

Wandering Populations

The phenomenon of "statelessness" assumed large proportions in the wake of World War I. More than a million White Russians and Armenians became refugees. Greece and Turkey exchanged other millions.

Early in the 1930's, Japan marched into Manchuria, touching off a period of strife for China that has displaced as many as 50 million people, with the end not yet in sight. The buildup of Naziism and Fascism and the Spanish civil war, in the 1930's, put European masses to flight.

"Nansen passports," named for a pioneering League of Nations statesman, were familiar at the borders of Europe. They marked an effort by the League to provide legal status for people of lost nationality.

World War II displaced ten for every one person left homeless before in Europe. When it was over, entire racial, religious, and national groups had been uprooted and moved, many for slave labor.

In the first two years after the war, about seven million went home again. But since 1947, the International Refugee Organization, which goes out of existence on December 31, 1951, has been responsible for welfare of over a million other DP's and refugees who could not go home. Many have been sent instead to Canada, the United States, the countries of Latin America, Australia, New Zealand, Israel and many nations of Western Europe. The U.S. has taken nearly 300,000.

More than 12 million Hindus and Moslems took part in one of history's greatest population exchanges following the partition of India and Pakistan in 1947. Other millions have been made homeless by the Korean war. A steady stream of refugees still pours through cracks in the Iron Curtain.

Kalmucks

When a family of three Kalmucks landed in New York recently on a refugee ship, a footnote was written to the history of a people who have been displaced persons for 700 years. As horsemen under Genghis Khan, Kalmucks first moved west across Asia. Others came in the 1600's. Wandering through the centuries, virtually the only group left today west of the Iron Curtain are some 700 in DP camps in Germany, soon to come to this country. The rest have disappeared, somewhere in Russia.

Mennonite farmers from Europe and Canada have followed a mass migration path since the war, going to the swampy wilderness of the Paraguayan Chaco. Moving because of war or overcrowding, they have established colonies where men have never succeeded before.

Parasites Depleting Few Buffalo Left in Country

CHICAGO, Ill. — Parasites are taking up where hunters left off in whittling down the number of buffalo in this country, the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association reports.

The report cited a parasitic attack in a privately owned Kansas herd of over 300 bison.

Seven animals died after being ill for several months. In others, the hair was falling out in large patches and the skin was scabby.

Diagnosis by veterinarians showed the animals were suffering from severe infection with lung and stomach parasites. The veterinarians were handicapped in treating the outbreak, because some buffalo weigh 2,000 pounds or more and may charge with incredible speed when approached.

The Journal report said that prevention of further losses rests upon separating the herd into small groups, isolating calves, rotating pastures, and burning contaminated manure.

Sailor Steelman Couldn't Get His Ship Underway

DALLAS—This era of specialization has taken the "sail" out of some sailors. The sad story of Navy Apprentice Airman D. D. Steelman proves the point.

Steelman shoved a small boat from shore at Mountain Creek Lake. He couldn't get the motor started and hadn't bothered to bring oars.

Had he been able to steer, the wind might have driven him to shore. As it happened, he wound up on a bed of silt. Sitting there in near freezing weather, Steelman thought of starting a fire with the boats wooden flooring, but he had no matches.

There was nothing to do but shout for help.

Rescuers finally found him in a hoarse condition—not from a cold, he said, but from shouting.

Prompt Ordering Windbreak Trees Asked by Agents

This is the time to order and plant windbreak trees, it was pointed out by Randall County Agent John Brazzil and Home Demonstration Agent Lou Ella Patterson last week. Red Cedar trees, a specie excellently adapted for this purpose, can be ordered for $1.00 per hundred and if ordered before March 13, can be had free of shipping charges.

At least 8,000 of these trees have been ordered during the past few months for use in Randall County. At this time the supply of the trees exceeds the demand. As a general rule it is the other way around, maintained Brazzil.

Another thing that is new is the arrangement that has been worked out concerning the shipping of the trees. Formerly they have been sent directly to the person wanting to plant them. This arrangement resulted in a shipping charge over and above the cost of the trees.

Under the new arrangement the trees will be delivered to the court house and no shipping charges will be levied. Orders for trees taken before March 13 will be delivered on Thursday, March 13, between 3 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the court house.

C. W. Simmons, Farm Forrester of the Texas Extension Service, will make the delivery. While he is here he will give planting instructions. Printed instructions can also be obtained from John Brazzil or Lou Ella Patterson.

Simmons will bring some extra trees when he makes the delivery but it was pointed out that people who desire some trees for windbreak purposes should not depend solely upon them.

Those who want trees are asked to place an order before March 13. By being prompt, shipping charges can be saved and the exact number of trees desired can be obtained.

HE'S A MEANY

Jones was exceptionally cheerful. All day long he had been whistling and humming at his work, until at last Brown asked him what was the matter.

"Well, you see," explained Jones, "my wife has lost her diamond engagement ring."

"Well, what's there to be so cheerful about in that?" asked Brown.

"I'm waiting for her to tell me. I found it in my trousers pocket."

HOPE NOT

A woman motorist was driving along a country lane when she noticed a couple of repair men climbing a telephone pole.

"What are they doing that for?" she said, turning to her companion. "Surely my driving isn't as bad as that!"

Pecking Order Sets Standing Among Animals

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Tortoises are snobs. In New York's Bronx Zoo, a herd of giant Galapagos tortoises sleeps, eats and travels in cliques according to some mysterious social ranking.

Barnyard hens strut or sulk in relation to their standing in a caste system, with each chicken kept firmly in place by the next higher in order. Certain fishes have social ladders extending to the last lowly member of a school, bullied by all the other members.

Among many different branches of the animal world, scientists have observed highly developed social systems. The phenomenon is often called the "pecking order." It determines which birds in a given flock, for example, can peck which others and get away with it.

Henpecked is Right

At Kansas State College a few years ago, a group of eight hens was brought together. Within five days the pecking ability of each had been recognized by the rest, and a hierarchy was established. The leader could scratch, roam or roost wherever she chose, pecking all other members of the flock with impunity. Hen number two could shoulder aside all but the leader; and so on down the line to the last hen.

Social hierarchy may have been handed down among the now nearly-extinct Galapagos tortoises, the scientists at New York Zoological Park believe, from long centuries of one-way traffic on the turtles' rocky home islands in the Pacific, 600 miles west of Ecuador.

Tremendous numbers of the land turtles, migrating with the seasons, once wore deep trails between highlands and seashore in the Galapagos. Only wide enough for one tortoise at a time, the gullies forced the shellbacked travelers to move in single file, all at the leader's pace. Traffic control may eventually have imposed a sort of social order on the tortoise herds.

Fourteen different techniques of aggressiveness have been catalogued among the great armored crawlers. A pair will snap sluggishly at one another across the back of a third, their eyes blinking fiercely, their necks stretched to the utmost, but their heads still a foot apart. "Over-climbing" and the "bulldozer" techniques are other methods for establishing who has higher standing in tortoise society.

Cardinals, redpolls, waterfowl and many other birds follow pecking orders, Dr. Arthur A. Allen of Cornell University reports in his book "Stalking Birds with Color Camera," published recently by the National Geographic Society.

Cardinals will fight their own window reflections in guarding their prerogatives. A ruffed grouse rumbles like a miniature freight train; prairie chickens stamp and boom; mallards dogfight in the air—every bird has some method of establishing superiority.

A goldfish put alone in a bowl will become so lonely and frustrated as to actually wind up a "mental case." But the vicious piranhas of South America are so scared of one another that they will try frantically to escape through the glass walls of a tank when two or more are put together.

Pain In the Neck Can Be Very Serious Affliction

CHICAGO—A pain in the neck—literally speaking—can be a very serious thing.

In children, acute neck pain is usually due to an infectious process in the nose or throat, the central nervous system or the lymph nodes.

In adults, they said, neck pain is often due to dental or other oral infections, postural and structural changes in the neck, muscular affections and injuries. In the elderly, such pain may be due to cervical arthritis, blood vessel disease or malignant tumors.

Among the diseases which cause such pain are a sore throat, diphtheria, infections of lymph nodes and glands resulting from German measles and mumps, meningitis, meningism and poliomyelitis.

Boils, carbuncles and cysts anywhere on the neck are common causes of neck pains, the doctors stated, as are a thyroid condition, goiter, certain skin inflammations of the neck, inflammations of the mouth and osteomyelitis.

Acute neck pain often may be associated with, or as the presenting symptom of, a virus infection of the respiratory tract, according to the doctors. Tumors, arthritis, tuberculosis of the larynx, syphilis and bursitis are also causes.

Woman Draws Fine Because She Turned off Radio

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. — A Mount Vernon woman was recently fined in court for turning off the family radio. She did it with a pistol.

Mrs. Susie Norman told Justice of the Peace W. O. Page that her husband was playing the radio too loudly. When he refused her request to turn it down, she took the pistol and fired, cutting the radio cord.

Her husband called city police, who arrested Mrs. Norman and charged her with disorderly conduct.

Road Show Cast Almost Complete

Work on the script and cast for the College Variety Show got underway this week with numerous acts being chosen for spots on the program. Master of ceremonies will be chosen sometime today from a field of four contestants. A complete cast will be available next week.

Donna Erwin will be the leading female vocalist and Jerry Jones will be the number one male singer. The Collegians, dance numbers, solo artists, drama acts, comedy skits and pianists have been accepted for parts in the show.

The show is in the process of being arranged now and other acts will be added before next week.

Tentative plans call for a road tour beginning March 31 and ending April 2. Cities tentatively booked for the show are Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Shamrock, Memphis, Plainview and Tulia. The troup will give three shows per day on the first two days and two on the last one.

A portion of the show will be presented to the Panhandle High School Press Association March 27 in Canyon at the annual meeting before the group leaves for the tour.

The show will be presented to townspeople and college students before the area swing begins.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

The Texas and Pacific Railway was building westward across the State and, in anticipation of the railroad's arrival, Fort Worth boomed.

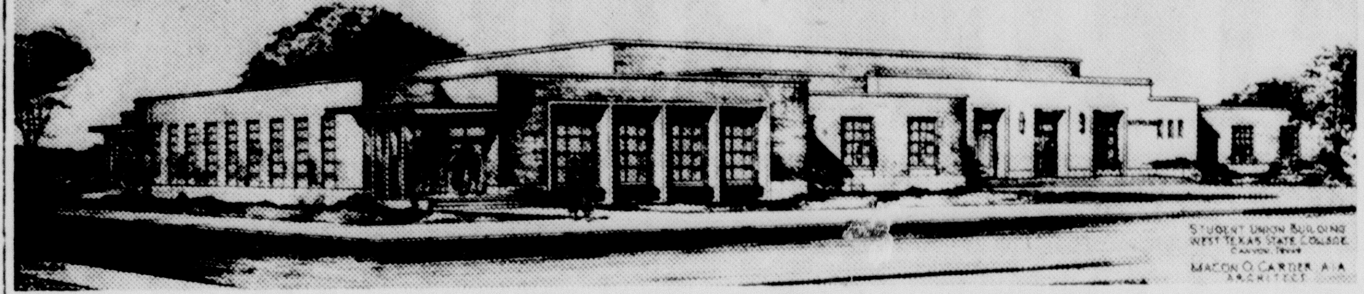
In the autumn of 1872, the T.&P. had been built to Eagle Ford, six miles west of Dallas—and then disaster struck. The Wall Street firm of Jay Cooke & Co., backers of the railroad failed. Construction of the line halted and an exodus from Fort Worth began. From a population estimated at 4,000, the town soon numbered less than 1,000.

Citizens felt that the future of their town depended upon obtaining the T.&P. and, despairing of the company's extending the line to Fort Worth, undertook to build it themselves. The Tarrant County Construction Company was organized, the capital stock being subscribed in money, labor, material, forage and supplies.

It was a race to save the railroad company from losing a land grant from the State. One of the provisions was that the railroad had to reach Fort Worth before the legislature adjourned. There were members who felt that the grant was too liberal and they made several efforts to end the session. Major Darnell, Fort Worth's representative, was ill and, if he were absent at roll call, there was no quorum. So, day after day, he was taken to the House on a cot.

Rapid progress was made on the construction of the railroad but, at last, adjournment of the legislature was set for two days hence. It seemed almost an impossibility that the railroad could reach Fort Worth within the time limit. But in those final days, Morgan Jones, the contractor, did not go to bed, seizing only a few minutes sleep now and then. And the work did not end with darkness but continued under the light of torches till midnight. Then volunteer workers rested till dawn and started toiling again. Their wives brought coffee, food and cheering words.

The rail-laying caught up with the grading at Sycamore Creek; so, instead of a trestle, cribs of ties were used to support the track over the creek and then the rails were laid on the ground for two miles. One account says that the city council extended the city limits a quarter of a mile east so the distance could be shortened. At all events, the first train entered Fort Worth July 19, 1876. The race had been won!



Architect's sketch of the new Student Union shows how it will be joined to the cafeteria and will replace the present Post Office and Bookstore. Floor plans have not been drawn and students are invited to give suggestions to the Prairie on facilities to be included.

PO's, Taylors, Randall, Junior Class Pledge 1,000 Bricks to Buffalo Gals

"Have you bought your brick?"

That is the question being asked everyone this week as the Buffalo Gals' project for obtaining $7,500.00 to buy brick for a new student union building gets underway.

Since the official launching of the program Feb. 21, the Gals have received $323.81 from donors. This sum will buy 4,317 bricks for the new structure.

Biggest donations came from Pi Omega Sorority, Taylor & Sons Country Store and Randall Hall. Each of these donated $75 to the fund. The junior class has pledged $75.

Macon O. Carder, Amarillo architect, estimated that it will take 100,000 bricks to build the student union and each brick, counting installation, will cost 7.5 cents.

Carder Wednesday presented his drawing of how the building will look when completed. (See picture above) The edifice will be erected adjoining the college cafeteria. The present plans call for the bookstore and post office to be included in the structure.

The large lounges in the south end of the cafeteria will serve both the union and cafeteria.

Ex-students, students, faculty members and all campus organizations are asked by the Gals to aid in this drive.

Contribution boxes have been placed in the cafeteria, Administration Building, and bookstore. Signs have also been painted in conspicuous places to remind students of the need for the new student union.

Plans are being made for a house to house collection drive in Canyon.

Ernest Russell, president of the Student Senate, Tuesday commended the Gal project and pledged full support by the Senate of the drive as soon as plans are completed for the annual Personality Pageant.

At present the 22 charter members and five pledges are engaged in an extensive publicity campaign to let more people know about the drive.

Lions Club Sees Film And Conducts Fund Raising Auction

The Lions roared out to their regular weekly meeting Wednesday with five visitors and ten absentees. The club is still raising money for the convention fund by conducting auctions at their meetings.

These auctions are conducted on a time basis. Bidding moves along at a rapid pace of 25 cents per bid. An alarm clock is set and when it goes off the person whose bid is in gets the object that is being auctioned.

Bidding Wednesday was on enough Pittsburgh Wallhide Rubberized paint to do one room. R. B. Allen, secretary-treasurer of the club, was the lucky person to have the bid in when the alarm clock went off. He turned the paint back to the club and it was re-sold. This time Bob (Pee Wee) Gough was lucky. He kept the paint.

Lion Art Roberts supplied the program for the day. It consisted of film of last fall's Homecoming and some of his fishing expeditions. A little tricky projection was done to inject a bit of comedy into the film. One of these tricks was a man, M. D. Shepherd, sitting on his front porch picking a newspaper out of the air, piece by piece, and putting it together.

Another was Shepherd drawing water out of the ground and catching it in a container. After the water had been taken from the soil a handful of dry dust was picked up from the place that had been a mud puddle a moment before. The Lions expressed their pleasure of the pictures with much laughter and applause.

Visitors to enjoy the lunch and show were: Earl Meadows, R. C. Oliver, Lee McLaurey, Chester Nickelson and Julius Hansen. It was also decided that Lion members who were present would make an attempt to contact those absent and let them know that they were missed.

Plans for Personality Pageant Announced by Student Senate

Ernest Russell, president of the student body, released the plans this week for the 5th Annual Plains Personality Pageant to be held March 21 in the college cafeteria.

This pageant is presented every year to announce WT's Personality King and Queen along with the presentation of visiting royalty from high schools in this area.

Russell stated that 115 high schools had been invited this year and he added, "Response so far has been very good, leading us to believe that we will have more high school delegates than in any previous years."

Entertainment is being provided for by the high school royalty by the Interclub Council, who will give them a tea in Randall Hall, followed by a three-act play given by the Speech Department in the Branding Iron Theater.

This year, there will be no admission for college students with dates and WT airmen in uniform with dates. Others, including stags and outsiders, will be charged $1.00 per person.

Russell commented on the pageant by saying, "There is no reason why we shouldn't have a large representation from the college to honor the visiting royalty and our own King and Queen.

We have selected a highly recommended orchestra from this area that we feel will furnish the quality of music everyone will be interested in."

Committee members from the Senate and Publications are working on the decorations and theme to help make this pageant the best in the history of WT's pageantry.

Personality King and Queen will be elected early in March. Future plans will be publicized through The Prairie.

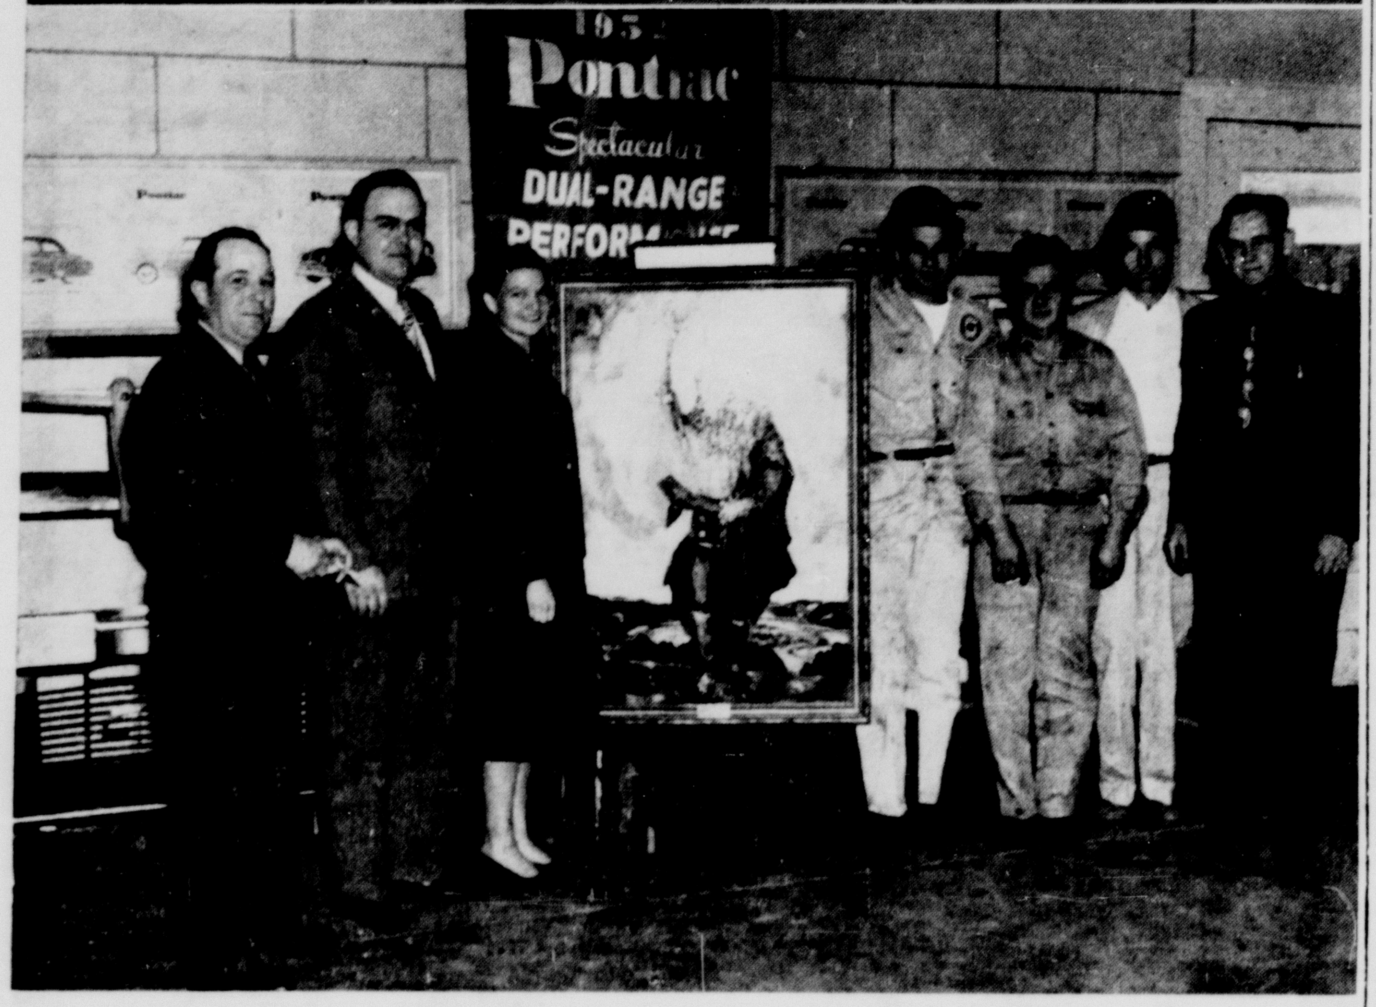
T. S. Stevenson, Jr. Honored as Pontiac Dealer

1952 Pontiac
Spectacular
DUAL-RANGE
PERFORMANCE



Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors has named Stevenson Pontiac, of Canyon, to the Better Dealer "Hall of Fame" for outstanding dealer accomplishments. The firm is headed by T. S. Stevenson, Jr., owner and general manager.

With honors, Mr. Stevenson has been presented a reproduction of the famous painting of Pontiac, Chief of the Ottawas and Indian Confederacy leader, for whom the car is named. T. A. Cullen, Manager of the Pontiac Oklahoma City Zone, made the formal presentation and lauded improvements, community service and accomplishments of Mr. Stevenson Wednesday morning.

"Pontiac's Better Dealer program has been in effect for about two years now, Cullen said. "It is not enough that those admitted to the select group be as good as competition . . . . they must be better. They must be better than they were before, a year ago, a month ago, or last week.

They must constantly improve and have progressive thinking. They must be capable of continuing healthy growth in order to earn and then keep the symbolic portrait, given for as long as the high standards are met."

Under the Better Dealer program, each Pontiac Dealer is graded on improvement of his physical property; number of qualified, trained workmen; service facilities and adequate equipment, parts and accessories inventory, used car lot operations and advertising and public relations program. Service to his community is vitally important.

"Our dealers and their employes are the Pontiac division's only contact with the buying public. The goodwill being enjoyed by us today and that we will have tomorrow depends on these contacts of Better Dealers," said Mr. Cullen.

The firm's facilities are considered among the finest and most modern in the community. The building measures 2,625 square feet, (plus a separate body shop of 1,500 square feet) and a 2,750 square feet used car lot adjoining the building.

The showroom measures 1,200 square feet and the service department is completely equipped with latest mechanical aids. It measures 1,500 square feet. There are 2,000 square feet of customer parking area. Parts inventory is considered adequate to serve the community's need embracing more than 600 square feet. The entire operation is well signed and lighted in an attractive way.

Other members of this organization are: J. B. Hickman, sales manager; Birch Campbell, parts manager; Curtis Lehnick, mechanic; J. W. Hennington, mechanic; Elmer Bauer, bodyman; and Crawford Kiker, tire salesman.

U. S. diplomats are toying with the idea of accepting a proposal of military services that this country end its blockade against the anti-Communist forces on Formosa. If the State Department does agree, then the forces of Chiang Kai-shek will become free to cause any annoyance that they are able to cause against Communists on the mainland

Statehouse

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

Never laugh at a Truman joke, because the joke is on you.

That's the way Dr. Arthur A. Smith, in a speech here the other day, emphasized the point that the people have only themselves to blame if things go wrong with the government.

Dr. Smith was for years a professor of economics at Southern Methodist University. He is now a vice president of the First National Bank of Dallas. He frankly doubts whether the citizens of this country are big enough to vote unselfishly so as to get rid of the free spending and graft that has characterized our government in recent years.

I am not voicing any personal opinion of mine in this column—on the other hand, I am relaying to you some of the remarks of Dr. Smith because he challenges you and me to take action leading to the correction of certain evils in Washington.

There would be no bribe-taking on the part of federal officials, Smith commented, without there being someone outside of governmental circles to offer the bribe.

In that instance, there is a lack of honesty on both sides.

There is a lack of honesty also, Smith contends, in voting for an administration because it offers rewards in terms of government benefits such as, for example, old age assistance or farm subsidies.

There is selfishness, Smith said, all up and down the economic scale. Ordinarily we think of bankers as conservative people who would oppose a free-spending kind of government.

But bankers see so many government checks these days that a good many of them are taking a more liberal view.

Smith told his audience that he has a hard time believing that we in this country are fighting communism. There are two reasons for his unbelief.

In the first place, this country is itself getting closer to communism every day—with ever more power being concentrated in Washington and ever more taxes being collected by Washington.

Secondly, "had the authorities wanted to end the war in Korea they could have done it. I suspect that it is a business proposition. If it's not a business proposition it's certainly a political proposition."

The speaker added that "I suspect that bunch up there (in Washington) is far more afraid of Old Man Depression than Old Man Stalin."

He made light of contentions that this nation is merely stalling for time, putting off a war with Russia until we are ready. To support his view he recited that during World War II Russia lost 7,500,000 men while the U. S. lost 300,000.

Much of Russia's land was scorched by the Germans, but not one enemy soldier, except prisoners of war, reached American shores. Much of Russia's production capacity was lost for years to come, while American production capacity was doubled.

While he did not advocate war with Russia now or any time, Smith scouted the notion that we must kowtow to the Reds on the assumption that they are stronger than we.

Preparedness, meanwhile, is an $85 billion business.

"If I had that much money I could be elected president myself," Smith contended.

Leaders of Southern Democrats are saying privately that they will be disappointed if Mr. Truman does not seek a third term. Politicians in the South are getting all set to demonstrate that they cannot be taken for granted by the left wing of the Democratic Party. They want a chance to show that the party cannot win the Presidency without them.

Charles Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, is starting out again on a campaign to convince farm voters that a Republican Administration would pull the props out from under farm prices and accept a new farm depression. This type of appeal paid off in 1948 and is credited, as much as any one thing, with Truman's election.

Dean Acheson, Secretary of State, has vetoed a plan of military services to put on a naval demonstration off the island of Hainan where Communist Chinese are training for an attempted invasion of the island of Formosa, held by non-Communists.

Stanton Griffis, U. S. Ambassador to Spain: "An American investment in Spain is the best bet in Europe today."

President Truman is giving thought to an announcement, to be made from Key West sometime in March, that will be modeled after the famous Calvin Coolidge announcement that he "does not choose to run." In the case of Calvin Coolidge the party did not choose to have him run, but the choice was there to make. Mr. Truman, too, is expected to leave the door open to a draft.

The Truman problem of naming a successor is complicated by a firm decision on the part of Fred Vinson, Chief Justice, that he should keep his present job. The attitude of the Chief Justice is pictured as akin to that of William Tecumseh Sherman, who said that he would not accept if nominated and would not serve if elected.

Most people would prefer to tell the truth, but would rather be courteous.

Democracy in Action

One of the fundamental institutions upon which we depend for the dissemination of our American standards is the public school system. Public schools enable every child to obtain a generous education regardless of the stations of life. Public schools help recognize the responsibilities of citizenship and constitute a major obtrusion against subservient beliefs.

Yes, we must remember that this is Texas Public Schools Week and this is one chance we have of really learning about the development and construction of our school systems.

We are proud of the school system that has evolved since the time of Horace Mann. He was truly one of the first persons who understood and really wanted public school.

Its success has been due to many factors: the interest of parents in their children, the collaborated efforts of state, national, and local officials, and the determination and everlasting energy of those spirited men and women who are consecrating their entire lives for the education of others.

Our school system is not perfect. We must remember this, but by encouraging and supporting our teachers and schools we can continue progress which will increase the public understanding of the necessity of education.

Keep Smiling

"The thing that costs the least and does the most is just a pleasant smile."

Since Smile Week is over don't quit smiling altogether. Even if you didn't get up on the right side of the bed, or someone hurt your feelings, don't let it show, just smile and you will feel better.

What if you were walking down the hall and no one smiled at you? You wouldn't like it and that's the way other people feel when you don't have a pleasant smile to give them.

It doesn't take much energy to smile and it makes the other person feel better, so let's all smile. Our visitors, newcomers, faculty members, and friends will all feel better.

Here's Cal again this week to bring you some more news of tha happenin's up at the old red school house! From the appearance of the weather last week, Cal thot he wuz gonna hafta migrate agin! (he just got back from his Southern roost.)

You know I bet this is one of the most active schools in the whole Panhandle! Last week was Smile Week, the Future Teachers went on their trip, the Eagles won their district in basketball, the FFA senior team won first place in the area in their activities, but Cal just wouldn't trade schools for nobody! He's been here so long that he feels that he's just a permanent part of our school!

Ole Cal has been savin' his money for many weeks now and do you know what he bought with it? A Horse! Yes Sir, a real horse, and he's black and white spotted. Being's Ole Cal's brain power ain't what it's supposed to be, suppose you kids help him figure out a name for his new mode of transportation. Now he's a purty thing and Cal is real proud of him, so let's christen him something that is really slick!

Oh, yes, if Jo Jennings comes in on crutches, here's why: she fell from a bench in her closet while she was trying to get to the top shelf. It seems that the bench fell on top of her!

Dating Data

Manners are simple if you know the rules for the right thing to do at the right time. But at this teen-time of your life, most of those difficult moments come up in your relationships with adults. With teachers, parents, and your best friend's family, you run smack into "what do I do now" situations in which you put your thoughtfulness and poise to a test.

One thing to remember is that talk with adults isn't quite the same as banter with the school crowd. With older people, curb your colloquialisms a bit and try to avoid abrupt, monosyllabic answers. Don't use sarcasm or smart-aleck answers to cover up when you get stuck for casual conversation. It would be better to say nothing than to burst out with something you wish you had not said at all.

The easiest etiquette is the kind that has black and white answers. The hardest to follow are manners based, not on rules, but on the kind of person you are.

Red Cross Sends Chests Overseas

The Junior Red Cross gift chests compiled by Canyon High School and W. T. students will be sent to some European country. The chest will contain school and health supplies, recreation equipment, musical instruments, first aid kits, and books. Contents will fill approximately five cubic feet.

The program for filling gift chests was developed from requests from students throughout the country for an opportunity to send school and health supplies to foreign nations where the need for such things was so great.

This policy helps to build mutual understanding among the participating countries and may also be used as an educational tool. Only junior and senior high schools may participate.

A letter which was received from a boy in Bayreuth, Germany, who got one of the chests follows:

Dear School Children in America,

I received your parcel a few days before Christmas. I was very glad when I could use everything that was in the package. We haven't seen such things for a long time in Germany, that's why I was surprised when I saw the ball. I can use the crayons in school, and I thank you with all my heart for everything.

May God bless you and your parents.

Many greetings,
Yours thankfully,

Lambs were shown for the first time; Charles Morris showed the first and second place winners.

Complete results of the show may be found on the front page of this paper.

Freshmen Defeated At Bovina Tourney

Losing by one point twice in the Bovina Tournament was the luck that fell to Canyon's freshman team February 29 and March 1.

Friday, Dimmitt defeated the squad 28-27. At the half Canyon led 19-14. Joe Dickerson sank 11 points, followed by Mitch Murry with 9 to claim high point honors.

The Canyonites defeated the Texico Jr. team, 39-20, March 1. High point men were: Joe Dickerson, 12; Jimmy Golden, 9; and Charles Joyner, 8.

Friona won the consolation honor, 18-19, March 1. At the end of each period of play Canyon led or followed by two points: 1st quarter, 4-2; 2nd, 7-9; and 3rd, 14-12. R. A. Burgess, Jimmy Golden, and Mitch Murry tied for scoring honors with 5 points each. Robason led Friona with 14 points.

Mitch Murry was chosen on the All Tournament team.

Eagles Place Second in Regional I-AA; Lose to Levelland 56-55

Before a packed gymnasium, the Canyon Eagles, former regional champs of '51, fell to the Lobos of Levelland in a photo finish ball game in Lubbock.

The Eagles, having been previously defeated by the Lobos twice, gave the Levelland boys a rugged workout from the start to finish. "Red" Ratliff scored for Canyon after the first tip-off from Ray Burrus. The Canyon Eagles outshined the Lobos in their scoring ability and the first quarter ended with Canyon leading 16-11. Ray Burrus and Lynn Williams copped honors in that first quarter by tallying 6 points each.

The second quarter found the Lobos leading the Eagles by a score of 34-31. During the second quarter, Dick Dawdy was replaced by A. C. Wimberly.

Still unable to overcome their low score, the Eagles slipped behind to an even greater margin, as the quarter score jumped 48-42 in the Lobos' favor.

With time quickly fading away, the Eagles overcame their score somewhat by sinking 10 points. A. C. Wimberly and Lynn Williams were substituted by Tommie Middleton and Bobby Hardaway.

In the fading moments of the fight-to-finish game, the Eagles tallied two points, raising Canyon's scoring roster to within one point of the Lobos' tallies.

With only 45 seconds remaining in the game, the Levelland quintet froze the ball and won the right to travel to the State Tourney held in Austin.

Center for the Eagles, Ray Burrus, netted 24 of Canyon's total of 55. Lynn Williams aided in Canyon's scoring act by shooting most of his goals from midway in the center of the court.

Canyon captured an easy victory, 48-35, over the Childress Bobcats. This victory enabled the Eagles to contend for the championship game against Levelland. Leading all the way, the Eagles ended the half-time score 33-18.

Canyon's 6'4" Ray Burrus was equally matched in height with Bobcat, R. D. Bradshaw. Burrus overshadowed Bradshaw, however, by scoring 15 points to Bradshaw's 11. Lynn Williams, ace hitter in long shots, tallied 13 points for second honors.

The Yellowjackets from Kermit were carried away by the Canyon Eagles in both of the teams' first game in the regional tourney.

The Yellowjackets, playing most of the game defensively, were unable to cork the soaring Eagles, and the first half ended with Canyon topping the scoreboard 28-18.

With a 25 point gain over Kermit's score of 23, the Eagles in the few remaining minutes of the fourth quarter were replaced by Tommie Middleton, Richard Pruitt, Charles Miller, Arlen Ruthart, and John Miller. Shooting ace in the game was Ray Burrus with 19 points, followed closely by Bob Ratliff, who copped 17.

Eagles making the All-Regional team were Ray Burrus and Bob "Red Dog" Ratliff. Ray Burrus, senior at CHS, captured high honors in the Regional Tournament by being high point man in all three games. His total points for the tournament reached a high of 58.

The starting line-up for each of the three games consisted of Ray Burrus, Bob Ratliff, Dick Dawdy, Lynn Williams, and Guy Hamblen.

Assembly Features Public School Week

"The Greatness of the Texas Public School" was the topic discussed by Reverend Herschel Thurston, pastor of the First Methodist Church, in his address to the students Wednesday, February 27.

"The effects of a student's home life and church life are brought with him each day and affect his school life." The students of Canyon High School have access to one of the greatest opportunities ever given, education.

Reverend Thurston gave various reports concerning the make-up of Canyon High School: a total of 33 courses are offered to over 1,000 students in the Canyon public schools. Ninety-two persons make up the school employees with 55 of these being the teachers.

Some students travel 35 miles to attend this school, and all of the buses combined travel a distance of 1,100 miles a day. Our school is valued at approximately $600,000.

Rev. Thurston concluded his address by stating "that the students of CHS had one of the finest group of teachers in the state of Texas."

The chorus, under the direction of Miss Ada V. Clark, sang "America the Beautiful," and "For God So Loved the World." A clarinet quartet, Charles Miller, Sherma Dixon, Patsy Vandergriff, and Jo Ann Mickey played "Sherzo" and "Cheri Beri Ben" at the beginning of the program.

The junior conducting team won second and the FFA quiz group won third in the area also. The senior and junior conducting teams won first in their district which entitled them to enter the area meet.

Over 300 vocational agriculture students and their leaders, representing 39 teams and 26 schools, participated in the contest.

"Why Look Back?"

By Charles Donnell

The arts of building with blocks and riding herd with new mates were slowly poured into his soluble head by a person of faster drawing ability than his own. This new personality was paged by the handle of Mrs. Collins. She was hard on the brain but believed in a good rest when needed.

Not many suns had set when a change of grounds was again inevitable. The old homestead was set aside for a new hitching post in the heart of the West. It was none other than Amarillo, the home of the "Golden Sandstorm."

The second boss in line was then teaching fancy infantry tactics to a large number of AHS's army bait.

The lack of coyotes and windmills soon brought him back to the homestead at a gallop.

The life of a CHS rooter was soon brought to a head. The years of careful training in the grade school were about to be put to test.

On a glorious day in the year 1948, the fabulous life of a high school student was brought to a reality.

The first few weeks of this promotion were hard on all concerned. None of the old knowledge seemed to be capable of coping with the new. The whole outfit seemed to be run on a basis of freshman, sophomore, junior and senior. The despairing part of it was that a freshman had a million new trails to make before the great honor of senior could end his agonies.

The term of freshman was formally past and the path was shortened by a number of new thrills. The life of upper-classman was not like any preceding. Assemblies were held in fast succession and our little ink-slinger was now president of his fellow bookworms. This year was a whirlwind to the next year's tornado.

A door of knowledge, opened twice by Mrs. Beard, was thrown between infancy and manhood was speedily growing too great to span.

Deep Sea Diver Exhibits Oddities

"Exploring the Marine Underworld" was the title of the assembly program presented Monday, March 3, by Mrs. Marguerite Soule Shoemaker, one of the world's foremost naturalists and a recognized authority on deep-sea life.

A charming personality and dynamic speaker, Mrs. Shoemaker carried her audience with her through each dramatic experience. Strange, fascinating marine life held new interest for Canyon High students as she wove her magic spell.

Five cases of interesting and unusual specimens of marine life collected during her 18 years of underwater exploration were exhibited in connection with the program.

Included in the fascinating display were such aquatic oddities as seahorses, cowfish, octopi, porcupine fish, moray eel, star-fish, gorgonias, doctor fish, scorpion, queen trigger-fish, pork fish, queen angel fish, green parrot fish, trumpet fish, flying gurnard and trunkfish. Mrs. Shoemaker's diving equipment was also included in the program.

A noted authority on the psychological development of various forms of sea life, Mrs. Shoemaker has spent 18 years of investigating the smell, hearing, and emotional reactions of deep-sea creatures.

Each year she spends several months exploring the ocean depths for new material. The remainder of her time is spent filling the many demands for her services as a speaker.

One of a few women deep-sea divers, Mrs. Shoemaker became interested in diving because she wanted to be a more effective life saver at the swimming beach where she worked. Her interest in aquatic life has been passed on to her son who is assistant oceanographer at the University of Miami.

Colwell and Green PHSPA Candidates

Sarah Jane Colwell and Ralph Green, Canyon High School juniors, were elected candidates for honors at the annual Panhandle High School Press Association meeting, at West Texas State College, March 22.

Sarah Jane, editor of The Eagles Tale, is candidate for secretary of the association. Ralph, sports editor of the paper, is nominee for the Dorinda E. Bond Award, which is sponsored by the Publications Department of West Texas State College in honor of the late Dorinda E. Bond, former sponsor of PHSPA and journalism instructor at CHS. These two students were elected by The Eagles Tale staff to represent CHS.

The big advantage in having more than one child is that they climb over each other instead of over mom and pop.

Eaglettes Sweep District Title; Outscore Floydada, Tulia Girls

Taking the lead in the first quarter, the Eaglettes soared past the Floydada Whirlwinds to take the title of District Champions Thursday night, February 28, on Floydada's own whistling grounds.

Pacing the Lady Eagles' scoring roster was Pat Ford with a total of 23 points. Holmes topped the line-up for Floydada with 10 points. Others in the scoring for Canyon were Tysene Cox with 20 points; Peggy Bonds scoring 6, and Barbara Glanton, 5.

Outstanding work on the part of guards Patsy Priddy, Joann Dodson, LaRue Davis, and Betty Glanton was exhibited by the intercepting of Floydada passes.

Another victory was added to the Canyon Eaglettes' list after they defeated the Tulia Hornets on the Canyon court Tuesday night, February 26.

Rough competition was met by the Lady Eagles in the first half to the challenge with a score of 9-10 at the close of the first quarter and 18-18 at the half. Taking the lead in the third stanza the Eaglettes broadened the margin to 22-28 at the close of the third frame and walked off with a victorious win of 27-42 over the Tulia Hornets.

Tysene Cox was high-scorer for the local girls with 22 points while Christene Foster topped the Tulia lassies with 10 scores. Second place sinkers were Pat Ford with 14 points and Melvia Webb holding 9 points, while Barbara Glanton dropping 6 points and Delores Hutto 8, took third in the scoring.

'Smile' Assembly Climaxes Week

Electing a Smile King and Queen was the purpose of assembly held Friday, February 29, in Canyon High School.

Barbara Beck and Betty McGehee held the highest number of votes for Smile Queen. Those holding the highest number of votes for Smile King were Raymond Hinders and Harrell Slack.

John Miller, SFC vice-president, began the assembly program by leading the students in the Pledge of Allegiance. He then introduced Jim Cornette, SFC president, who gave a talk on the importance of friendship.

Mrs. Dan Sanders, social studies teacher in CHS, gave a talk on "Highlights of Smile Week."

Mr. E. A. Wooten, superintendent of schools, then talked to the student body about his observations on friendliness.

After Mr. Wooten's talk, Anna Lou Samuelson, chairman of the Smile Week committee, took charge of the balloting for Smile King and Queen.

A run-off will be held Monday, March 3, in order to determine who is to be Smile King and Queen of Canyon High School.

Journalism Staff Enters Scrapbook

A special service contest scrapbook is one of the major projects of the Canyon High School journalism department this year. The book is part of the display and is a representative of Canyon High School in the Panhandle High School Press Convention conducted at West Texas State College, March 22.

This scrapbook is prepared by the newspaper staff and contains all stories and other work which rendered special service to either the school, community leaders, and department sponsors are included to show effects of the special service rendered by the paper.

The scrapbook is leather bound and is lined with a soft skiver sheepskin lining. An eagle preparing for flight adorns the front cover with the words, "Canyon High School Journalism."

All related stories are placed in one section, pasted on green sheets of paper. The art class is preparing the end sheets and table of contents.

Oscar L. Chapman, Secretary of the Interior: "Character assassination has become too general in politics."

High School Band Attends Concert

The Canyon High School band attended a concert given by the Amarillo Army Air Force Base Band Thursday, February 28.

"Oh, Cornet," "Mardi Gras," and "When the Saints Go Marching In" were the selections presented by the entire band group. A soloist, also one of the tuba players, played "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" and "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" on the marimba.

During this performance the dance band set up their equipment. "Blue Moon" was played by this group as one of the members of the band sang.

This is one of the many concerts that the college sponsors every year which the CHS band attends.

PEP RALLY

Once again the halls of CHS resounded with challenging yells from the student body and cheerleaders, as they strived to inspire action into both the Eagles and the Eaglettes before their decisive games Thursday and Friday nights. The singing of the school song ended the pep rally.

Bishop FitzSimon Officiates at Rite in St. Mary's Cemetery

Umbarger. — The Most Rev. Laurence J. FitzSimon, Bishop of Amarillo, came here February 12 to bless the Crucifixion group recently erected in St. Mary's cemetery. The group was donated by Mrs. Carrie Beckman in memory of her late husband, Anton Beckman.

The Knights of Columbus and their wives formed a guard of honor for His Excellency as he arrived.

Escorted by a color guard, Bishop FitzSimon made a visit before the Blessed Sacrament. He then went to the rectory, where he vested.

In the meanwhile, the congregation again formed a guard of honor at the cemetery. There the color guard escorted His Excellency from the cemetery gates to the foot of the Crucifixion group.

The Bishop was assisted by the Very Rev. Peter Morsch of Nazareth. Also present were Fathers J. Arnold Carlson, Canyon, and Andrew Marthaler, of Umbarger.

The story of the pioneer life and struggle of one of Umbarger's first pioneer families, the Anton Beckmans, follows.

Life for a pioneer Umbarger family began in Germany more than one half a century ago. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beckman with their nine sons, Theodore, Henry, John, Joe, Anton, Christ, August, Bernard, and Will, and their three daughters, Anna, Christina, and Mary, came to America to make their home. Another daughter, Elizabeth, died at the age of 12.

Anton, then 12, became one of the Umbarger's early settlers. Because he was coming to America to live he was permitted to make his First Holy Communion when he was 12 instead of 13 years of age, as was customary in those days.

The Carl Beckmans reared their family in Elgin. About 1906, a land development company sent representatives to Illinois to interest the farmers in Texas land. Anton and two brothers, Henry and Joe, came to Texas and bought land near Umbarger.

On Feb. 5, 1902, he married Miss Carrie Stuam in old St. Joseph's church in Elgin. She entered the Church a short time before the wedding. Mrs. Beckman, a native of Wurttemberg, Germany, came to America at the age of 15. The youngest of 11 children, she came with friends to join two older brothers living in Elgin.

For the first few years of their marriage the Anton Beckmans lived on a well-improved farm near Elgin. Mrs. Beckman recalls that they lived in a large stucco house and they even had a telephone. She also had a woman who came in every week to help with the washing and other household tasks.

In 1907, they decided to move to Texas. They sold their farm and in February, 1908, they went to Texas. Mr. Beckman chartered two freight cars. Into one went household furnishings, and the other one was loaded with livestock and implements. Mr. Beckman's brother, Christ, and a hired hand cared for the freight.

A young man who lived in Elgin was coming to Texas also, and as he did not care to drive his car so far, he asked permission to ship it in one of the freight cars. Mr. Beckman consented and the car was loaded. The railroad officials decided, however, that the freight car was overloaded. This delayed the shipment 10 hours.

In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Anton Beckman and son, Clarence, had gone on to Texas on a passenger train. They arrived in Canyon well ahead of their belongings.

They found a room in Canyon near the depot and walked downtown for all their meals. They were there for a week before the freight cars arrived. The land that Anton bought was not improved, but his brother Joe's land had a small house on it, in which the Beckmans were to live.

Mr. Beckman, his brother Christ, and the hired hand took Mrs. Beckman and Clarence out to the farm, which was about three miles west of Umbarger. They were to wait there while the men went back to Umbarger to unload the freight.

Inside the small house was a pile of straw that had been used as a bed by the men who had been staying there. Mrs. Beckman said she was so homesick for Illinois, where she had a nice house and close neighbors, that she would have gone back if she had only had a way. But she had brought a broom along from Canyon and, after the men left for Umbarger to start unloading, she began to clean the house before the first furniture arrived.

When darkness came and the men had not yet returned, Mrs. Beckman, who was not accustomed to the wide open prairie, became freightened. She took her small son by the hand and started toward Umbarger. She had not gone far when she heard the wagons coming. By the time the teams and wagons had been unloaded, there was not enough time to unload any furniture.

Mr. Beckman said he was sure they could find some one in Umbarger who would put Mrs. Beckman and Clarence up for the night, and so the three of them started back to Umbarger. They stopped in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kutchel, a non-Catholic farmily, and explained their predicament. The Kutchels took them in with a hearty welcome and gave them supper and a good bed. Mr. Beckman went back to the farm with the other men. They slept on the floor.

The next morning Mrs. Kutchel asked Mrs. Beckman if she would like to meet her neighbor who lived across the street, for they also were from Germany. They went over and met the Christ Emge family and ever since the two families have been great friends.

Living conditions in Texas did not compare with those the Beckmans knew in Illinois. Mrs. Beckman did bring her washing machine along, but that was about the only convenience she had. They had brought a good supply of oak wood from Illinois and used that, along with coal, for fuel. At that time, coal was plentiful and cheap.

Umbarger boasted a one-room general store with very limited provisions, a post office, also housed in general store; the section boss house, and a few homes. The Christ and Mike Emge families, both Catholics, lived in Umbarger, and the Pious Friemel family and his son, E. J. Friemel and family, also Catholics, lived on farms near Umbarger. Shortly after the Beckmans came, the Matthias Hess family, also Catholics, moved near Umbarger.

During the first years in Texas, crops were bad or failed completely, and all but the hardiest families moved away. The Beckmans went to Canyon for supplies in a buggy or a spring wagon, depending on the provisions they needed about every two weeks. It took the better part of a day to go to Canyon to shop, and then return home.

There was no church then. About once a month, Father Reisdorf from Nazareth came to offer Mass. For a while, Mass was offered in one room of the Pious Friemel home, where Father Reisdorf also slept. He had few conveniences; for fuel to heat the little room, he sometimes used cow chips in the heater. Mass was offered in the Christ Emge and other Catholic homes before the first church was built.

After the Beckmans were settled, they began to improve their own land. They dug a basement and built one large room above it. They lived in this house until they were financially able to build their present home. What they could pay for, they had; otherwise, they did without. There was no such thing as paying for something on the installment plan.

About 10 months after the Beckmans settled in Texas, Joe and Henry Beckman moved their families to Umbarger, the Anton Beckmans moved into their new house, and the other Beckmans moved into their own places.

As the horses were needed to till the land, the women folks walked almost everywhere they went. Mrs. Beckman remembers walking to the homes of her sister-in-law to spend the day, or she would walk to Umbarger to buy a few things.

They planted a big orchard and raised all their own meat.

The children, within a several-mile radius of Umbarger, walked to school. At that time, the school was a one-room structure and stood east of Umbarger.

The Beckmans had their share of the early day hardships. Canyon had one medical doctor and one dentist, and the closest hospital was St. Anthony's in Amarillo. When either one of them was a patient there, the other one found that visiting presented quite a problem. Even though they had a car, the poor roads to Amarillo kept visits to a minimum.

Mr. Beckman was still active in farm work at the time of his death in 1948. Mrs. Beckman is still active and enjoys visiting and entertaining friends. She recalls that

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

Our apologies are in order and are being extended to Rex Reeves, principal of West Texas Elementary School. Mr. Reeves attended the Ohio convention with Mr. Miller. In the hustle and bustle Mr. Reeves' name was left out of the news story and we're truly sorry it happened.

The Canyon Eagles dropped their final regional tilt by a heartbreaking one point. It was the third time this season for the Eagles to suffer defeat at the hands of the Levelland Lobos and each one very close. The final score was 55-56 and that one point thrust the Eagles out of the basketball until next year.

This has been a glorious season for the Eagles and a lot of that glory was buoyed up by these athletes: Ray Burrus, Bob Ratliff, Lynn Williams, Guy Hamblen, Johnny Miller, Bob Hardaway, Dick Dawdy, A. C. Wimberly, Tommie Middleton, and Stirling Cummings. It is our hope that these fellows will go to bigger and better glories as the time goes by.

Just when it looked as if spring was really coming in, old man winter rears his ugly head again and we start having some more cold weather. A bit of snow came tumbling down to remind us all of the fact that old man winter is not completely out of the picture yet. The moisture from the snow was not enough to do the wheat any good but there was a rain which helped a bit. Many trees appeared to be about ready to burst into bloom so perhaps the cold weather stalled that event off without doing a great deal of harm to the trees.

Every year it seems that spring tries to exert herself just a little too soon and old man winter always lashes out with the fury of one of his cold waves. The results are frustrating to the plant and animal life and at the same time a lot of people take bad colds and the flu.

Among those to come out second best with the flu bug last week was Dudley Bayne. Dudley agrees with many others who maintain that this seige of flu is about the most painful ever experienced. It seems that the only good point about the illness is the fact that it only lasts a very few days. Shades of 1918, old timers say that this particular outbreak will equal or maybe outdo the one suffered about the end of World War I.

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association's show this year was bigger and better than ever. The organization is only five years old but it is rapidly advancing by growing into a bigger show every year. This year there were 100 entries registered in the annual show. The officials had planned to have their own building for this show but several things rendered this impossible. They are presently making definite plans for their own building next year.

Another note of things growing bigger and better is the fact that several new signs have made their appearance about town recently. The Southwestern Public Service Company was installing a huge new sign last Thursday. Cliff Mlinar, manager of the organization, said the blue background of the sign was all metal and that the blue was enamel paint. Neon is used to illuminate the large letters. He went on to say the sign was 15 feet long and 34 inches from top to bottom and weighs about 500 pounds.

Just across the street from the electric company at Jennings, is another new sign. This one is small but very appropriate for the occasion. In fact it may be said that it's one of the eletest of the elete signs in town. It adds a graceful touch to the front of an extremely smart shop.

If you've been to the Olympic Theater since the new seats were installed and you haven't almost sat in the floor because of the new fangled seats, you're lucky. They're the type that automatically come up when you leave them. It makes getting in and out of the seat easier but it also causes many people to almost sit in the floor. You see, when you push the seat down you have to hold it until you're sitting in it, otherwise it comes right back up again.

In fact the seats are sort of like the country boy's version of the city dial telephone. The boy failed to get his number so he dialed the operator. She told him to use the dial to get his number and he said the dial was no good. He went on to tell the operator that the dial was full of holes and every time he turned it, it came right back again. It's just plain no good, he complained.

Oh yes, to get back to the theater for a bit. Charlie Donnell said he had found several billfolds in there. They all have names and identification in them. Persons who have lost billfolds should come by to see whether or not Charlie has it. Charlie says he'll be glad to get rid of them.

Note to Cecil Massey: we didn't have room for your name in the column this week. Sorry, maybe you'll make it next week.

The UMT Issue

This letter is being written in the midst of the heated debate on HR 5904, the UMT bill. This debate has included discussions of every subject from the fall of the Roman Empire to the possibility of socialized medicine with numerous side trips on all subjects.

The final vote should be taken on the bill by the time this letter reaches you. However, should the bill pass the House, which is extremely doubtful at this time, it will still have a high hurdle in the Senate.

Many of the proponents of a sound basic universal program for providing military information, knowledge and know-how to the youths who will see service in the event of another war are opposed to this particular bill. One of the factors that is causing primary concern to all of the southerners is the position of the Defense Department on the segregation issue.

Congressman J. B. Williams, of Mississippi, wrote that department for information on the subject. His letter was answered by Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, and I quote to you a portion of her letter concerning the segregation question:

"To give you specific answers to the three questions in your letter, the answer to your first question is that, in accord with present policies, outside the confines of the training installations, military personnel and trainees will be expected to conform to applicable state laws and to observe local practices and customs with regard to social relations with the civilian community.

"Further, when visitors from the local civilian community are present in our installations, every precaution will be taken that they will not be embarrassed by required deviation from the social customs and practices they expect in their own community. However, on the actual grounds of the training establishment, racial segregation will not be maintained among the trainees.

"As to your second question, it is not contemplated that racial segregation will be maintained. Trainees will be integrated into mixed racial units. In this regard the Services, insofar as possible, follow the normal percentage distribution of racial groups in the population in making assignment to training units. In answer to your third question, in accord with the policies indicated above, the answer is 'no'."

The third question referred to in the last sentence of the above paragraph dealt directly with whether or not segregation would be allowed. Of course such a policy is in direct discord with the traditions of the South and it is not surprising that such a policy, when applied to teen-aged boys, is alarming to the representatives of the South and the Southwest.

It is also argued by many that the provisions of the bill concerning medical care and health of the trainees if carried to their possible, if not probable, conclusion, could actually result in a socialized medicine program.

Alaskan Statehood

The Senate by a vote of 45 to 44 recommitted (which means in effect killed) Senate Bill 50, providing for the statehood of Alaska.

The vote on this measure reflected an almost solid front of southern senators against the admission of Alaska. Senator Kefauver cast his vote with those favoring the admission of Alaska. Senator Taft cast his vote with those against the admission. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who is heading Eisenhower's campaign, did not vote.

The two Texas senators voted with those opposed to the admission of Alaska.

I wish that I could put in this letter the entire context of the Senate debate, but that is impossible. There is one pertinent point that had great weight. The records reflect that as of 1950 Alaska had a population of 128,643. Had Alaska been admitted as a state, she would have been entitled to two members in the U. S. Senate, which would be composed of 98 members.

On a comparison basis, Texas with over 6,000,000 people would have two senators, while Alaska, with a population of less than that of Potter, Gray and Hutchinson counties, would have the same number of Senators. This would hardly be equal representation as far as a Texan is concerned.

The party division on this vote was very interesting. Twenty-five southern-led Democrats were joined by twenty Republicans to send the bill back to committee. The forces for admission of Alaska consisted of twenty Republicans and twenty-four Democrats.

The party platforms of 1948 were as follows: Democratic platform: "We urge immediate statehood for Hawaii and Alaska."

Republican platform: "We favor eventual statehood for Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico."

If the vote on the Alaskan issue was any indication, it would appear that the southern democrats didn't agree with either platform.

The Virus Epidemic

The virus epidemic has hit Washington in full force. It caught the entire Rogers family and all eight of us were affected about the same time. Since this happened, Jean and I feel that we are fully qualified to operate a hospital. The drug and doctor bills make you feel like you have been operating one.

We are all recovering in good shape, though, and hope that you folks are doing the same.

Leading backers of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower are genuinely embarrassed by the lack of a firm promise from the General that he will return home before the Convention and show an active interest in the nomination. Senator Robert Taft is left pretty much alone to make political hay.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, seeking renomination, is finding it necessary to convince Texas Democrats that he is just as strongly against the Truman Administration as is his opponent. The contest tends to revolve around the question of who is most anti-Truman.

In Europe, when dealing with the statesmen of that continent, U. S. officials now try to get what they want with the warning: "If you don't do this, Taft will be elected President." Taft is pictured as the bogeyman who might end or cut drastically the flow of free dollars.

Pulling and hauling within the U. S. Air Force over reappointment of Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force Staff Chief, is complicating operation of that important branch of the defense establishment. General Vandenberg's term expires April 30.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco is glad to have U. S. build bases in Spain but is not yet ready to agree that this country could use those bases in time of war. U. S. military services are unwilling to put money and effort into base building if the bases can't be used when a fight starts.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Supreme Commander in Japan, is increasingly concerned over the problem of troop morale in Korea. It is difficult to keep military organizations in fine fettle when there is no apparent objective other than a possible inconclusive "truce."

Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Secretary, does not see eye to eye with his boss, Winston Churchill, on Formosa policy. Eden was shocked when Churchill publicly thanked U. S. for keeping Communists away from Formosa.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, hard-boiled and hard-hitting chief of the Strategic Air Command, is favored by Air Secretary Thomas Finletter for the top Air Force job.

. . . says MORRIS SAPIR

Dependable Furniture Company, Oakland, California

"After using Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.

"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."

WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?

Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packin', easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Religious Speaker Nobel Prize Owner

Dr. Robert Andrews Millikan, 1923 Nobel Prize winner in his work as a physicist, will visit West Texas State College for three days of lectures beginning March 18 and ending March 20. The lectures are under the auspices of The Religion in Education Foundation.

The story of Dr. Millikan is one of a half-a-century search into the infinite. Such technical details as isolation of the electron and experiments in early proof of the validity of Einstein's theory were achieved by Dr. Millikan.

His honors include the Hughes Medal, the Edison Medal, and the Faraday Medal. The total number of such honors exceed 20 representing nine different governments.

Millikan was born in Illinois March 22, 1868. His father was a congregational minister and his mother was dean of women at Olivet College, Michigan. Boyhood of Millikan was spent working on a farm. His life is really two stories.

The personal success he has achieved is one of these stories while the other is the advance and success of American Science.

Deferment Tests Deadline in March

AUSTIN, Texas. — Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, reminded male college students of draft age today that they must apply quickly if they wish to take the Selective Service college qualification test this spring.

Applications for the test, to be given on April 24th, must be postmarked no later than midnight Monday, March 10th. Applications postmarked after that time will not be accepted.

Any local board of the Selective Service System can furnish the student with a bulletin of information about the test, application blank, and envelope for mailing. Applications go to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

To be able to take the test, an applicant:

(1) Must be a Selective Service registrant who intends to request occupational deferment as a student.

(2) Must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree. (The applicant need not be in a four-year college, but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution.)

(3) Must not previously have taken the test.

The test, a three-hour written examination, is to provide evidence for the use of local boards in considering deferment of a registrant from military service as a student.

The test has been termed a "measure of scholastic ability." The bulletin of information obtainable at local boards shows the nature of the test and sample questions and answers.

OLD-FASHIONED LIVING
MODERN LIVING
MY UTENSILS SHINE ALL THE TIME NOW THAT I'M COOKING Electrically

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!

From the old open fireplace on through the ages cooking was a grimy, greasy job until electric cooking came along. Now, your pots and pans are always bright, always shiny for electricity is the cleanest cooking method known. Who ever heard of a dirty kilowatt? No black or grime on the sides of any pots or pans when you cook electrically either, for there are no flames to go around the sides and dirty up the pans — and the rest of the kitchen, too.

Modern living is electric living. Electric living is sparkling clean always. See your modern electric appliance dealer. See the sparkling clean range he displays. The clean-cooking, good-looking range. Of course, it's electric.
